MRS. FRANCES M. HUTCHINS

Mrs. Frances M. Hutchins passed to the Life Beyond, Saturday, Dec. 11, after a long illness.

She was the daughter of James Silver and Sarah Eliot Silver, and was born in Rumford in 1840. She spent the greater part of her life there except for a short time she lived in Hanover. She was married to Mr. Jool H. Hutchins in 1857, and to them two children were born, James S. Hutchins and Mary F. Clark, both of Bethel.

Mr. Hutchins passed away in 1901 and since that time she has made her home with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Clark, where she has been most tenderly cared for. When the time came that she was confined to her bed she did not complain but was always thoughtful of those whom she loved, looking forward to the daily visit of her son and wife who assisted in every way possible in her care. She was very interested in the welfare of her eight grandchildren and five great grandchildren of whom she was very fond.

She was a constant attendant at the Universalist church until health failed. Of a family of seven children she is survived by an aged sister, Emma, who lives in Iowa, Kansas.

The many beautiful flowers were silent tributes of the esteem in which she was held.

Funeral services were held at the home of Wallace F. Clark on Monday, Dec. 13, 11 o'clock. The remains were placed in the tomb, and interment will be in the cemetery at No. 10, Rumford.

CHURCH ACTIVITIES

METHODIST CHURCH

Morning worship at 10:45. Sunday School at 12. People's social service at 7 P. M. Subject, "We and They." The Ladies' Aid will meet with Miss Minnie Capen, Thursday afternoon. The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will meet with Mrs. Ira Jordan, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

S. T. Achenbach, pastor. Sunday, Dec. 19, Worship at 10:45, with Christmas sermon, followed by the Sunday school. At 7, evening worship, with talk by the pastor. Mid-week meeting on Tuesday evening at the usual hour.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH

Service at 10:45 A. M. Sunday School at 12. Evening meeting at 7 o'clock. All are welcome. Next Sunday will be observed as Christmas Sunday, with a sermon appropriate to the occasion.

Friday evening, Dec. 24, there will be the usual Christmas supper for the children of the Sunday School and their parents and all who attend church here. This is a free supper. After supper there will be exercises and distribution of gifts from the Christmas tree. During the afternoon there will be a committee at the church to receive any packages or gifts which are to be placed on the tree. This is an assembly for old and young to come and enjoy the Christmas time.

Last Sunday evening Olyndon Savin gave a report of the meeting at Lewiston, Dec. 3, which he attended. It was a conference of delegates from all the Y. P. C. U. organizations of the State; there were over one hundred present. It was a live meeting of live young people from the Universalist churches of the State, a feast of good things that will never be forgotten by those who were present, and Olyndon's report was very interesting. Mr. Little attended the conference and brought home some of the good cheer of the meeting to the members of our local Union. Rev. Stanley Manning, the National director of the work of the Y. P. C. U. in the United States, was an inspiring leader of the meeting at Lewiston.

BETHEL INN

Mr. Warren H. Colson of Boston spent the week end at Bethel Inn. Mr. Colson is a "Stamp Collector" and has traveled all over the world.

Mrs. Edward B. Burling returned to her home in Washington, D. C., the 14th after a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. L. O. Peaseley, who is spending the month at Bethel Inn.

Dr. Harry Owen, Canal Zone, spent the night of Dec. 8 at the Inn. He said this was the first snow he had seen in many years, and thoroughly enjoyed his sleigh ride from the stable.

Mr. Wolfgang H. Thomas was at the Inn over Sunday, renewing old acquaintances. Two years ago he spent the winter in Bethel and attended Gould's Academy, where he made many friends.

MORRIS PRATT BIRTHDAY,

November Twenty-ninth

DONORS' DAY

Academy Hall, on Dec. 7th, was filled with the friends of Goulds Academy upon an annual occasion which has become through years of recognition an important factor in the life of the school.

After having given an earnest address to the pupils for eight years in which Mrs. Gehring has tried to present before young minds the great demands of recognition, appreciation and gratitude for favors received as dominant claims upon those who are aiming to become truly educated, it has seemed to her that these foundations have been laid, and that the personal efforts of the school would lead to still further developments.

Therefore, she announced a year ago that hereafter the beloved Birthday would be considered an occasion of high privilege, wherein the school would honor the hour.

And it was a success! Never were these young people more willing, more courteous, or desirous of meeting the obligations of expression. Assisted by enthusiastic teachers and by the beautiful musical talent bestowed by Bethel friends who have thus given of themselves for years to enrich this anniversary—the afternoon proved to be one of enjoyment—and there can never be any hesitancy about arranging the program for another year!

Mrs. Gehring prefaced the program with an explanation to the fine, large Freshman class of the meaning of the day—as each entering class must know the tender meaning of this Birthday. She told them how very poor Gould's Academy was at one time, so poor it was feared the great lovely hall would have none but vacant seats, and how at that dreary time there came to Bethel a young man from a highly developed Christian family of wealth.

The story of the struggle for health for years of this young man, of his genial, lovable, sympathetic, generous character, and the pathos of his early death, held the absorbed attention of the young audience.

She told them of the noble way his parents bore their grief, and that Mr. and Mrs. Charles Millard Pratt had bestowed thousands of dollars which had kept Gould's Academy from closing its doors. She told them of the tender birthday gift for Nov. 29th in Morris Pratt's memory, and how the last two years there had been an additional gift in memory of Margaret Pratt Frost whose graceful, girlish beauty is still a sweet and vivid recollection among us! And thus the entering class and the newcomers and stranger guests knew why the name of Morris Pratt is a living presence among us. Mrs. Gehring laid upon of Mr. and Mrs. Pratt's gifts as including the Academy doors from closing. They were pushed wider open by Mr. Wm. J. Upton, and Mrs. W. W. Hastings; and there came a legacy from Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Green the two who held the school in affectionate remembrance, while passing north as the birthday were met by Mr. Wm. Dingham and

But two years ago, Bethel, the old Academy town, with its intellectual prestige, its reputation as a center for higher education, and the cultivation such an institution always engenders—was threatened with the extinction of its Academy.

Then Mr. William Bingham had thrown wide open those dangerously lightly hung doors—and saved Gould's Academy.

Here the applause interrupted the speaker. Since then through this open doorway, not only the helpful past benefits are seen but those of the present day; and a future vista lies beyond through the thoughtful wisdom and magnificent generosity of this man of power to will, and power to do, which make words inadequate!

When for all the Donors a "Hand" was permitted, the foundations and roof were threatened.

The program in the hands of Mr. Hanscom was as follows:

The charming mixed quartette (so eagerly welcomed everywhere among us) consisting of Dr. and Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Lyon, and Mr. Kilgore rendered the "Armorer" with stirring effect.

The next number was the "Patriot"—Crowd of the boys of the Class of 1921. To the measured beat of a stately march came the boys of the graduating class, and facing the audience were asked by the Class President, the question of Sir Wm. Jones.

"What Constitutes a State?" Each boy responded with war or more peace, and then in unison.

LADIES' CLUB RECEPTION

"Welcome the Coming and Speed the Parting Guest."

The Ladies' Club of the Congregational Church will give a reception at Garland Chapel on Thursday evening, Dec. 16. This reception will have a two-fold significance, being a farewell to Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Curtis, who are soon to go to Auburn for the winter, and a welcome to Rev. and Mrs. S. T. Achenbach, recently installed as pastor and first lady of the Congregational parish.

Rev. Mr. Curtis retires from the pastorate of this church after twelve and one-half years of faithful and unselfish service, having given and held the confidence and affections of the entire community, irrespective of church affiliations. Rev. Mr. Achenbach comes to us with the reputation of a fearless speaker of the truth, as it is revealed to him, and a tireless worker in God's great vineyard.

All members of the Congregational parish and other interested friends are cordially invited to be present, thus helping to make this "Farewell and Welcome" just as cordial, just as sincere and just as heart-warming, as we all desire in our hearts that it should be made.

CENTURY CLUB'S PARTY

Mrs. Gehring's Christmas gift to the Club was a carefully arranged evening of social enjoyments.

The house was thrown open for the pleasure of the guests, and the dining room with its brilliant decorations was called by one guest a "stream of delight."

It was easy to add interested guests to the Club members and almost fifty listened and laughed, played and partook, with the young people. The presence of Mr. and Mrs. Achenbach was much enjoyed, giving young and old a pleasant atmosphere of ready friendliness;—and it was vastly encouraging to see the ease with which the young people bore their part in the pleasures and courtesies of the affair, which Mrs. Gehring hoped would be a preparatory occasion, bringing all into the lovely approaching Christmas spirit of unselfishness and service.

GOULD'S ACADEMY

The Y. W. C. A. fair and entertainment held at Grange Hall on Thursday of last week was a great success. The sale in the afternoon was well patronized as was the entertainment in the evening which was thoroughly enjoyed by those present. The girls worked hard for the success of the affair and they were well paid for their work.

Friday evening the Gould's Academy basketball team defeated the Andover A. A. in a fast and clean game by the score of 25 to 8. Following is the lineup:

GOULD'S: Beckler, lt., Leighton, rg., French, lg., Baker, lf., Small, lf., Small, lf., Dunnag, rg. Goals from floor: Beckler 3, Jackson 6, Wright 1, Patterson 1, Leighton 2, Small 2. Goals from foul: Beckler 3, Small 2. Referee, Chapman. Timekeeper, Young. Scorers, Linnell and Hutchins.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

Events of Interest From Washington

By J. E. Jones
THE INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM

We have heard a good deal in political life about the initiative and referendum, but there has not been very much concerning it published with regard to economic affairs of the country. Nevertheless it is quite probable that more real progress has been made in this direction in the industrial than in the political world. This is illustrated by the fact that the Chamber of Commerce of the United States has just submitted referendum number 33 to the local business organizations throughout the country, which will vote upon the report of the Committee on Public Utilities of the National Chamber "regarding local transportation."

So much has been said and written about the condition in which the street railways of the country have been placed by the changed value of money and its purchasing power, and the inability of the lines to operate under the fares fixed in their franchises, that it is interesting to have a clear definition of the question, especially when it is made to clarify the understanding among business organizations in the United States. The United States Chamber of Commerce asserts that "every phase of the life of a community is affected by the success or failure of its traction lines in providing a service which is indispensable to the public. Careful regulation joined with concern for the business stability and success of traction lines should prevail in each city of the country. Adequacy of service at the lowest rate compatible with continued efficiency is the paramount consideration from the public point of view, and neither factor can be sacrificed to the other without public detriment."

This plain statement is supplemented by the report of the Committee which at the outset declares: "The country's transportation system has been placed in a critical position by conditions over which operating companies had no control and for which the public had generally made no adequate provision." The Committee then proceeds to define methods of a corrective nature. These remedies have in turn been submitted to local boards of trade and chambers of commerce, and the referendum will help to formulate means of relief for local transportation in all parts of the country in accordance with the suggestions that will have general applicability.

STRAIGHTENING OUT THE SNAILS
The War Labor Board assumed to raise rates of pay for street railway employees. It also fixed the price of material and equipment which the companies had to pay—and in turn it "fixed" the companies, since it added all these burdens to their conditions, but could not increase the sources of their revenue. The President and the Secretary of the Treasury and all the rest

DAYS OF DIZZINESS

Come to Hundreds of Bethel People There are days of dizziness;

Spells of headache, languor, backache; Sometimes rheumatic pains;

Often urinary disorders. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney ills.

Endorsed in Bethel by grateful friends and neighbors. Ask your neighbor!

H. E. Littlefield, prop. auto service, Main St., Bethel, says: "Some years ago my kidneys were out of order. I had been overworking at the time and was feeling knocked out generally. My back was weak and painful, especially on rising in the morning. I would be dizzy headed and when I stooped forward, little black specks appeared before my eyes; my kidneys were in bad shape, too. A friend suggested I try Doan's Kidney Pills, so I began using them and the one box cured me up in good shape. I have never had a return of my former trouble and recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone in need of a good kidney medicine."

This Burden Again?

A campaign of propaganda is being waged to restore the traffic in liquor. Pressure toward that end is certain to be exerted on Congress. Will we again shoulder alcohol's old grievous load of taxation, affliction and crime?

We will not! says the National Grange. Throughout its long and noteworthy career it has fought on the side of temperance, combating the evil and waste wrought by liquor. It has stood consistently for clean manhood and womanhood, for high ideals and for strict observance of the law.

The Grange is still aligned just as firmly as ever on the side of right. It believes that the riddance of liquor helped greatly to sustain this country in the difficult period of after-war adjustment. Congress must know that the farmers oppose the restoration of liquor.

You who believe in a clean America can help insure it in no better way than by joining the Grange. It is a mighty power for progress; as such it merits your support.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN, the great national weekly of profitable farming, also stands unswervingly for a clean and orderly national life. It seeks not only to inform, but to inspire through its news of farm success. You will find in its 52 big weekly issues many helpful articles and much wholesome entertainment—all for $1.00. We urge the double advantage of being a member of the Grange and a reader of THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

Every woman knows that fine silks make fine waists, but do you know that fine silk also makes fine flour? We buy the very finest silks for use in sifting

WILLIAM TELL
FLOUR

Every pound of William Tell is sifted through this silk, not once, but thirteen times.

After this sifting, the flour simply must be clean—it must be fine—it must be pure.

Rich, wholesome, white bread, with a delicious "come back for more" flavor, and a loaf that cuts to a fine, clear slice—that's your reward when you use William Tell.

Try it—once, anyway—and see. Just tell your grocer—William Tell.

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE OF MORTGAGE

Whereas John C. Eagle of Bethel, in the County of Oxford, and State of Maine, by his mortgage deed dated the 8th day of October, 1910, and recorded in Oxford Registry of Deeds, book 311, page 191, conveyed to Mottier L. Thurston a certain parcel of real estate situated in said Bethel, and bounded as follows, viz:

A certain piece or parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in said Bethel, at northwest Bethel, so-called, and bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning on the north bank of the Androscoggin river at the southwest corner of the land of Frank Brown, thence up said river to a stake and stones located at the southwest corner of the land of Seth L. Mason, formerly; thence northwardly on line of the said Mason land to a stake and stones standing in the range line; thence easterly on said range line to the said Brown land; thence southwardly on line of the said Brown land to the point of beginning, and being a part of lot numbered in said Bethel, and being the same premises conveyed to said Eagle by Helen E. Coburn by deed recorded in said registry, book 309, page 100; and whereas the condition of said mortgage has been broken, now, therefore by reason of the breach of the condition thereof a foreclosure of said mortgage is claimed.

A REAL CHRISTMAS PRESENT

The holiday season with its joys and its problems is upon us. What shall we do to add to the happiness of the occasion? Each one of us would like not only to wish our friends a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, but to give them one. We cannot do this by means of ill-considered presents. Thoughtless gifts cause the January ash can to bulge with debris. Only when our gifts have lasting meaning do they carry the true message of good-will which is the spirit of real giving.

We can give happiness and contentment and safety for the future as well as pleasure for the moment. Each gift are within reach of all. They are to be found in the Savings Securities of the United States Government. From the 25 cent Thrift Stamp to the $1000 Treasury Savings Certificate, they will carry with them not only the greetings of the season but happiness for years to come.

In presenting the child a card with one thrift stamp affixed, you bestow not only a present but a habit which will grow in value as the days pass, for he will wish to fill the card. That little gift will have grown wonderfully before another Christmas comes around, and the recipient will be on the way to a life of independence.

In recommending these lasting gifts, the Savings Division of the Treasury does not suggest that a single American curtail his Christmas giving. It suggests only that he broaden it to include his present which will bring future well-being to those he loves.

Thrift Stamps, Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates will be on sale throughout the year 1921. In continuing the sale of Government Savings Securities, the Government is giving the opportunity to every man, woman and child in the land through the coming year to enjoy the happiness, prosperity and contentment which is found in financial independence and security for the future. Buy U. S. S. at the high government officials wrote eloquent appeals in behalf of higher street car fares. Finally the President appointed the Federal Electric Railways Commission, which made a very exhaustive study of the electric railway industry, and recommended a basic plan for the reestablishment of the street railway industry throughout the United States.

The present referendum of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States seeks to further establish these basic ideas by bringing them home to the local communities. The Committee reports that among the problems affected by local transportation systems is the housing situation. It says: "The question is not only how to obtain housing but how to utilize it, and utilization in every instance turns upon the facilities for local transportation.
To a house, either a new or an old, access to an efficient railway is quite as essential for practical purposes, as sewer connections and a water supply." It is hard to gainsay these established facts.

WHAT THE CHAMBER PROPOSES

In the referendum now being submitted to the business organizations of the country through the Chamber of Commerce of the United States eight questions are to be voted upon. After each question there is a space indicating the local opinion, favoring or opposing the suggestions. These suggestions, which have come down the long official route, propound the following questions, stated in the affirmative, i.e.:

I "Existing traction facilities should be conserved.

II "The attitude now taken toward street railway problems should be based upon the present and future needs of the community.

III "The attitude which is taken toward street railway problems should contemplate private ownership and operation.

IV "Regulation should everywhere be instituted that will promptly follow changes in the situation of the companies rendering services of local transportation.

V "Provision should be made against the consequences of unfair competition.
VI "All burdens unrelated to the service should be removed from street railways.

VII "Official responsibility should be definitely fixed for the application of regulation.

VIII "Each company should seek to have available for the public at all times the facts as to the results of operation and should have resident responsible executives wholly conversant with local requirements."

RECONSTRUCTION OF RAIL TRANSPORTATION

Congress will doubtless be called upon to strengthen the transportation act, but in doing so it will find itself at a big disadvantage, since the relations between the public and the transportation lines were clearly defined in the Communes. Each measure. Mr. Alfred P. Thom, counsel of the Association of Railway Executives, traces the evolution of government regulation up to the passage of the law of 1920. This law, he says, "has its foundation in a new and larger view of the relationship of government to the instrumentality of the transportation which it undertakes to regulate."

To this Mr. Thom adds: "The abandonment of the old and mistaken view that the responsibility of government when it undertakes to regulate the business of transportation, is fully performed when it punishes its misdeeds and restricts its activities and opportunities and the adoption of the new conception that the Government's responsibility in regulation must extend to and embrace proper encouragement and protection, makes a new era in our legislative history and rises to the dignity of an economic triumph of popular government."

"It furnishes new assurance and gives fresh courage and hope to those who believe in the good sense and the spirit of wisdom and statesmanship which reside in the masses of the people and which will ultimately manifest themselves in the system of laws evolved out of public opinion."

THE WATER POWER COMMISSION

There are about one hundred applications for licenses for water power projects on file with the Federal Water Power Commission, established by the passage of the Water Power act, rushed through in the closing hours of the last session of Congress, and signed by President Wilson after it was thought that the time limit had expired, and following a howl of protest by business and industrial leaders. But before any of the projects can be started it will be necessary for Congress to make an appropriation of $500,000 to enable the Commission to make an investigation of all the features connected with the projects, in order that they may be approved. It is estimated that it will cost an average of $100 a horse power to develop the project, and this will mean that these great sources of power that are to be created will add a billion dollars to the wealth of streams and the helpfulness of industry.

The biggest of the proposed projects are Niagara and the St. Lawrence Rivers; the others are scattered from Maine to Alaska. The Ford Company contemplates a big project at Troy on the Hudson; and the Crown-Willamette Paper Company has a project for 7,200 horse power on the Willamette River.
The Alabama Power Company and the Southern California Edison Company have immense projects for their respective localities.

SPREADING UP IRELAND

There is being carried on in Washington an extensive propaganda in favor of "free Ireland." Nothing is being left undone to arouse public opinion, and to impress Congress and our own Administration with the importance of the Irish cause.

"What Constitutes a State?"
"Not high raised battlements or laboured mound.

Thick wall or moated gate;
Not cities proud with spires and turrets crowned;

Not bays and broad-armed ports, Where laughing at the storms, rich navies ride;

Not starred and spangled courts Where low-browed business waits portance to pride.

In unison: Not Men, high-minded men, Men who their duties know, But know their rights and knowing dare maintain.

Prevent the long-aimed blow, And crush the tyrant while they rend the chain.

In unison: "These Constitute a State." Miss Littlefield then gave some amazing illustrations of the difficulties a French pupil has with the English language, and recited, in French, Mary Stuart's farewell to France.

Mr. Swamy asked a series of unanswerable scientific questions.

Mr. Pollard's Glee Club of boys made its first appearance, with good promise for a future.

Miss Wright told some of a teacher's reflections from the monotony of the school room by reporting some camp-rations and class answers which may well be classified as RIBBLES.

Miss Seybail led a large number of promptly-responding pupils through a swift summary of the Pilgrims experiences in differing kinds of ships, and then with Russell at the piano, came all the marching girl-graduates to make known their Patriot-Creed of the Class of 1921.

Led by Vivian Wight, each gave expression to the following:

"I believe"

In my country and her destiny:
In the great dream of her founders.
In her place among the nations,
In her ideals.

"I believe"

That her democracy must be protected.
Her privileges cherished.
Her freedom defended.

"I believe"

That humbly before the Almighty, But proudly before all mankind:
We must safeguard her standard,
With the patriotic ardor Of her minute men.

The vision of her Washington,
And the boys in blue
Of her glorious past,
And the soldiers true of the present day.

I believe

In loyalty to my country, utterly, irrevocable, inviolate."

Mr. Hanson after making far too few of his eagerly-awaited remarks announced that there were to be three prizes of $10.00 each from the Morris Pratt fund, awarded at Commencement.

First, to the girl who has shown the most notable traits of womanly character, combined with the most successful cultivation of the true "Gould's" spirit.

Secondly, to the boy who best combines correct application to study, attention to duty, and usually, upright character at all times and in all places.

Third, to the boy or girl, who, upon the world offers so many examples of honesty and character, shows the best disposition for constant work, both mental and intellectual.

The announcement of a New Year gift to the school of a Victory was received with deafening applause.

Mr. Hanson then read in his own beautiful voice Van Dyke's "Keep ing Christmas," and the quartette sang an exquisite Italian Boat Song.

This was followed by Dr. Gehring, who, inspired by the oratorical atmosphere of the occasion, gave Mr. Hooley's speech of Oration to a deeply moved audience.

The wonderful National Anthem "To The O Country," by Eichberg, was rendered in a most inspiring manner by the quartette, and the program closed with "The Lord is my Shepherd," led by Mr. Pollard and the Glee Club, and rendered by the entire school.

And the Birthday and Donor's Day was pronounced a hopeful success.

GRAPFRUIT

From July 1 to September 30, 1920, 17,500 crates of grapefruit were exported from the Isle of Pines to the United States, as shown by invoices at the American consulate at Nueva Gereza, Cuba.

BATES COLLEGE NEWS

An interesting and clever satire, which attracted wide attention, was published Dec. 6 in the editorial columns of the New Haven "Journal-Courier," in which explanation was made as to the reasons why Yale was sending her three best men into the wilds of Maine to debate with the "farmers" of Bates College. A few more reasons were discovered to the general public Saturday evening, Dec.
11, when the Bates men won an unanimous decision over their opponents over the question: "Resolved, That the United States should invite the A, B, C Powers to co-operate in establishing a joint protectorate over Hayti." It is officially reported that Yale was to have claimed the Eastern championship if she had won, since neither team was defeated last year.

Hockey has started in good earnest, with the arrival of the right sort of weather. A fast squad is rapidly being worked into shape for the first game, to be played in Lewiston, Dec. 18, with the Portland Country Club.

At the vespers service last Sunday Governor Milliken delivered an excellent address on the "Spirit of the Pilgrim," in which he brought out the fact that the true American spirit had ever since the days of the early settlers been toward proper education and a deep respect for law.

Track work has started in earnest for the winter. Men are already out on the boards, getting into form for the B. A.
A. races next spring, as well as for the two-mile relay at Penn.

John Powers, '19, Cecil Rhodes Scholar from Bates, has been admitted to Trinity College, Oxford, and will sail for England on the Olympic, Dec. 29.

Payments of the State of Maine's bonus to 39,000 World War veterans started this week and it will take several weeks to mail all of the letters in which the checks are to be enclosed.

They are being sent out from the office of the State Treasurer in Augusta.
Along with each check goes a communication from F. O. Ayres, government director of the Savings Division, First Federal District.

This letter says: "Congratulations on your well deserved fortune in receiving the enclosed Here is some extra and perhaps unexpected money. Why not put it where it will count for future opportunity and safety? In making up your mind will you not think over carefully these facts about United States Treasury Savings Certificates: Price in December 1920, $84.00, yielding $100 on January 1, 1925, better than four and one-half per cent. The value of these certificates increases automatically twenty cents for every month they are held registered with the United States Treasury Department at Washington: they are loss proof. Put aside part of this bonus check for some future 'rainy day'. Such days are sure to come. Be prepared. Fill out the form below and send or take to your local postmaster." A blank form is attached.

In making arrangements for sending out these letters by courtesy of the Maine State authorities, Mr. Ayres received the cooperation of Treasurer Joseph W. Higgins, Deputy Treasurer
John H. Winslow, Adjutant General George M. Patten, State Auditor Roy L. Wardwell, Captain L. M. Hart, secretary to Governor Carl E. Milliken Postmaster F. W. Planted of Augusta and William P. Carras, postmaster at Bangor, all of whom were actuated by the belief that encouragement of investment of whatever bonus money could be spared from immediate needs would be a splendid thing for the service men, the State of Maine and the United States Government. Such an investment means that the money is safe and not thrown into some get-rich-quick scheme. It makes for contented, happy and self-supporting citizens and it furnishes the United States Treasury with much needed money to pay war bills still unsettled for which the Government allows a fair rate of interest to accumulate month by month in added redeemable value until the certificates reach maturity at the end of five years from the start of the year in which they are purchased.

That is a certificate purchased Dec. 31, 1920, will mature Jan. 1, 1925, but one bought Jan. 1, 1921 will not mature until Jan. 1, 1926. The interest, however, is taken care of automatically by adding twenty cents monthly on the $100 certificates. In 1921 a new certificate of $55 was issued.

maturity value will be offered for the first time. It will increase in value month by month at the proportionate rate. It is hoped by the State and Savings Division officials that this opportunity will be taken advantage of by the service men in order to give them a nest egg for the future.
The State incurred no expense in connection with this letter from the Savings Division.

BRYANT'S POND

The Nature Club met Thursday evening, Dec. 9, with Mrs. Ada Swan. Saving ladies were present. The program was as follows:

Roll Call, Quotations about Trees Aquila, Edith Abbott
Andromeda, Miss Chase
Pegasus, Abbie Dudley
Cepheus, Mina Bacon
Pegasus, Florence Cushman
Pegasus, Stella Bacon

Mina Bacon had specimens of the over-green trees studied (except the Juniperthe true one—or Red Cedar) and the wood.
